

The Book of Mormon Is Endangered

I am calling upon those who have received a witness by the Holy Ghost of the Book of Mormon to remember that occurrence, and which most likely led you to the LDS community.

Some will shout for joy at reading the heading of this post. It is amazing to realize why the Book of Mormon is endangered, and it is not because of those who haven't read and prayed about it. Satan uses PARTS of the Bible; but especially the New Testament to raise doubts and cause contention. Also, I have long ago learned to let go of things Joseph Smith is quoted as saying (perhaps this will be covered in another post). If true, it is AMAZING to me he never preached from the Book of Mormon.

The Bible has many contradictions. This is especially problematic when it comes to the New Testament. The Jews started long ago to twist and turn the New Testament to ensure Christ was held in a questionable regard. As we look to the testimonies of others about the mortal ministry of Christ we can discern glaring problems.

Don't get me wrong, I usually read parts of the Bible daily along with parts of the Book of Mormon. I have a love for the gospel from which the "Plain and Precious Parts" have not been held back. This is especially true when the Lord God is quoted.

To console themselves, those that don't really believe the Book of Mormon, jump into the "Great and Spacious Building" to join the throng of finger-pointers. Alas they have let go of the "Iron Rod" long ago, and like the Jews in days of Peter and his contemporaries, rely upon their own wisdom and thereby deny the Holy Ghost that was offered by God. They may quote from the Book of Mormon occasionally when it helps illuminate the Biblical or atheistic points they are making.

The wise and the learned try to make excuses and render opinions to appease others and end up filling themselves with nervous self assurance which gives them fear of being wrong. This causes them to double-down with their errors. In most cases they don't really watch or listen to the links in posts (or just skim them quickly) mostly because they imagine "They Know For Themselves", and it is beneath themselves to take in the materials in question. Their "Priestcraft" becomes endangered and causes them to have hateful murderous "Vain Imaginations". Unwittingly they have joined in with the platform of the "Great and Abominable Church". They are in jeopardy of having the blood of the Saints cry out against them.
